Accommodation

Brookville House which was originally built in 1732 is approached through wrought Iron gates on a gravel based drive way which is surrounded by mature hardwood trees in a wonderful parkland setting. The house itself which was extensively renovated in 2009 is presented in excellent condition throughout and boasts a host of attractive features such as working window shutters, newly installed sash windows, deep thread staircase with mahogany banister and solar panels. Renovated thoroughly Brookville has managed to maintain its period feel but with modern changes making it an ideal family home. Outside is an almost intact walled garden, a most attractive courtyard with cobble stoned buildings and a working farmyard with cattle and machinery sheds. The lands which have been re-seeded and drained contain a network of farm roadways throughout are ideally set up for almost any farming enterprise.
