THE CAPEL BUILDING

Completed in 2004 The Capel Building is located in the heart of Dublin on the Luas Line and between the Four Courts and The Jervis Centre. It is a mixed development of 22,000 sq.m with 10,000 sq.m of office accommodation over five floors and mixed retail units on ground and lower ground levels. The office accommodation ranges in size from 40 sq.m to 900 sq.m.

The building is entered by means of a dramatic double height foyer notable for its roof top atrium, extensive glazing, white oak cladding, marble finishes, plants, and water architecture.

All of the ground floor retail units have access either from this impressive entrance or from the street, and in some cases have access from both. A central reception area and 24-hour security presence service the requirements of office users, with additional safety measures built-in in the form of a state-of-the-art electronic security system.

A considerable investment in recycling resources ensure the most efficient and ecologically friendly handling of the centre's waste materials.

The Capel Building is managed by its own management company. A complex manager is responsible for the maintenance of the building, and also for ensuring that security and health and safety procedures are enforced.

Supplementary security provisions in place include extensive CCTV coverage and flood lighting.

Suite 501-506 have a combined usable floor plate of 771 sq. m (8,299 sq. ft)

Superbly fitted office units feature the following as standard:

- Air conditioning and heating
- Aluminium clad, tilt opening windows
- Cat 6 cabling
- High speed broadband connectivity
- Raised access floors

Other features include:

- Suspended ceilings
- High specification lighting
- Feature entrance doors
- Tea station/small kitchen facility
- Car parking options
- Quality floor coverings in common areas
- Back-up generator installation
