DESCRIPTION

FOUNTAIN HOUSE is an exquisite country residence situated in one of Ireland's most coveted locations. It's rare to find a place where you can fully enjoy the countryside while still being within easy commuting distance of Dublin and its surrounding areas. The residence spans approximately 761 square meters (8200 square feet).

As you arrive, you're greeted by a large cast iron gate flanked by imposing granite pillars and wings. The front garden is meticulously designed and professionally landscaped with mature trees and manicured hedging, ensuring the property remains hidden from the road. Upon entering the home, you're welcomed by stunning Canadian Maple panelling and solid wood flooring, showcasing the craftsmanship and attention to detail found throughout the house.

The ground floor features five spacious double bedrooms, two of which are en-suite, along with two additional family bathrooms. The centrepiece of the home is the drawing room, boasting a vaulted ceiling and a bay window that overlooks the gardens. The warm country kitchen, located at the rear of the property, centres around the beautiful and essential Aga Cooker. The ground floor also includes a generously sized utility room and a crucial boot room, often one of the most used spaces in a home like Fountain House. Additionally, there's a full-sized gym.

Upstairs, you'll find a games room, a bathroom, two separate study/storage rooms, and a den/cinema area.

Outside, there are two well-maintained, stud-railed paddocks lined with trees. The land is of high quality, making it ideal for equine enthusiasts or those interested in maintaining a small farm holding.
